MYSTERIOUS WRESTLER

YOUNG MONDAY. He Meets Joe Grant Tonight at Catch Weights.

Both Boys in Fine Condition.

ENTIRE PURSE TO WINNER

41-10 Catch Weights, and Grant Should Have Advantage-Huseman and Tyrrell in Exhibition Preliminary.

> Joe Grant and Young Monday wrestle tonight at the Washington Light Infantry Armory.

No wrestling event held in Washington for a year has attracted more attention than this. Grant's prowess is well known to Washington admirers of wrestling. He has been meeting all comers, and so far has a clean record at his weight. He claims both the welter and Law Crew a Problem. the entire purse, and he will weigh porting regularly for practice and as a above the welter limit. This concession result are rather crude but are much in weight is in Grant's favor, as he is slightly larger than Monday, and will tries. In the final race for the univer-0 be stronger than if he had to scale down 2 to 148 or even 150.

Monday Is Strong.

Monday weighed 150 yesterday and seemed in the pink of condition. He did some light stunts with Frank Huseman at the Rock Spring Club, where he has been training, and showed himself both fast and strong. He knows the tricks of the game, and it is evident that he has had long experience. He still maintains an air of secrecy about his identity, but should he win tonight it is thought that he will be ready to give his right name. Should he lose, it is doubtful if he will be more communicative than he is at present.

The much discussed preliminary between the lawyers are confidently expecting to win as they have a large number of experienced men to pick from Curren. Wade, Ham, Seitz, all G men, and Bocock, of the Potomac Senior champion to the first football squad will leave Wednesday morning over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Annapolls, to play the Naval Cadets in the first football game between the two institutions.

crew was superior to that of the year though not prone to discuss the show-before. Yet the showing was extremely ing of the crew, is well aware that if Faint-Hearted.

The poor showing has been attributed to the faint-heartedness of certain men in the eight. After laying behind in third place for three miles the crew was expected to let out a spurt and catch its leaders or, at least, prevent itself from being overtaken. Coach Dempsey thinks that up to the beginning of the the college classes practicing regularly in the vicinity of the Aqueduct Bridge and as a result the oarsmen are showing rather good form for fell work. The seniors are conceded to be the hardest pulling crew on the river, and with Captain Graham and Canario, of the variety, in the shell, this crew is expected to be a big factor in the race for the college championship.
